How to Become a Being Profile® Accredited Practitioner

The following are the minimum requirements for becoming an Being Profile® Accredited Practitioner:

Training

A Being Profile® Accredited Practitioner must first successfully complete a Being Profile® Debrief with an Accredited Practitioner, followed by the two training days that make up the Being Profile® Accreditation Program.

In addition to successfully completing the training any person intending to become a fully Accredited Being Profile® Practitioner must also complete a minimum of ten Being Profile® feedbacks (within a 6 month period) as well as successfully complete an accreditation assessment interview before receiving their Being Profile® Practitioner Accreditation.

Your Being Profile® accreditation will remain valid for a period of 12 months from the 1st of the month immediately after the date of your successful assessment. Successfully Accredited Being Profile® Practitioners may purchase the Being Profile® at agreed preferential rates and conduct Being Profile® feedback sessions in accordance with the guidelines agreed.

They may also display the current approved Being Profile® Accredited Practitioner badge on their website or social media profile, e.g. LinkedIn profile, for as long as their valid accreditation is maintained and they adhere to the guidelines pertaining to its use. Accredited Being Profile® Practitioners may also request to have their coach profile credentials displayed on the directory page of the Being Profile® website or other landing pages etc. where appropriate.

Engenesis may also choose at its own discretion to forward potential leads or clients to Accredited Being Profile® Practitioners. Any leads or clients provided will be subject to any agreements between the coach and Engenesis.

Being Profile® Master Accreditation status is available to anyone completing a minimum of 100 profiles and successfully completing their subsequent assessment interview. Standard Being Profile® accreditation is maintained for subsequent years by purchasing AND completing a minimum of 10 Being Profiles® in any twelve month period. The Being Profile® Master accreditation is maintained by purchasing and completing a minimum of 25 Being Profiles® in any 12 month period.

Accredited Practitioners agree to stay informed as to any updates or changes to the Being Profile®, guidelines for its use, training, and Being Profile® interpretation sessions. Regular refresh workshops, Thrive MasterClasses, and online webinars will be available for current Being Profile® Accredited Practitioners from time to time.

All Being Profile® Accredited Practitioners must adhere to the agreed use, promotion, sale and marketing of the Being Profile® including adhering to any agreed interpretation guidelines. In any event a Being Profile® Accredited Practitioner agrees to ensure that their conduct does not bring Engenesis, the Being Profile®, Thrive Coaches or any other Being Profile® Accredited Practitioner into disrepute. If an Being Profile® Accredited Practitioner does not adhere to the agreements pertaining to accreditation or any agreed codes of conduct they may have their accreditation withdrawn immediately and without notice.

All Being Profile® Accredited Practitioners agree to maintain the confirmed pricing schedules for the Being Profile® and any Being Profile® interpretation sessions and also agree that any discounts they may personally provide will not be published, promoted or marketed without prior written agreement and permission from Engenesis and in any event will not be promoted on any website or other form of marketing.

Please Note: Being Profile® Accredited Practitioner does not infer or imply that any Being Profile® Accredited Practitioner is an (Engenesis) Thrive Coach, an employee of Engenesis, or any of its associates including Engenesis Thrive or the Being Profile®.

Valid and current Being Profile® Accreditation is a minimum requirement for (Engenesis) Thrive Coach Accreditation and further information on Coach Training, Thrive Coach Accreditation and Thrive Master Coach Accreditation is available on the Being Profile® website www.beingprofile.com the Thrive Coach page of Engenesis www.engenesis.com/thrivecoach or at one of our many Being Profile® or Thrive information sessions (details of these are regularly posted on our LinkedIn and other social media pages).
